Handicapped, 3. Child or children under the age of 6, 4. High energy consumptions. Applicants with a high priority will be inserted into the waiting list ahead of applicants with lower priority criteria.

All heating assistance applicants will be automatically referred for energy conservation services.

Discussion with applicant who live in poor quality housing that have high-energy usage or who are demonstrating a pattern of reliance on LIHEAP should focus on the benefits of the conservation services.

1. Energy conservation will stretch LIHEAP dollar.
2. The amount of money required for heating from the applicant's own pocket reduces.
3. The weatherization services will continue to reduce energy costs, so even if the applicant is not eligible for LIHEAP, the out of pocket cost will be lower in the future.
4. The applicant's home will be comfortable with fewer drafts and cold spots.

The long range advantage of taking the extra time to encourage participation in Weatherization services so that program expenditures will be reduced allowing more people to be served.

The plan will be the tool developed to assist these households to become self-sufficient. The participant and the intake specialist will set goals to enhance the clients educational and job performance.

Case management will promote family self-sufficiency, and long term stability. The LIHEAP staff will conduct client intake interviews to identify circumstances such as unemployment, under-employment, drug/alcohol abuse, lack of child care, transportation, unaffordable housing, and chronic health issues the prevent clients from paying bills and having access to basic necessities.
